DANIEL M. PEDRIANA is a shareholder with Lindner & Marsack, S.C. His current practice primarily focuses on defending worker's compensation claims for the insurance industry and self-insured employers.

He was an in-house attorney for a major insurance company prior to joining Lindner & Marsack, S.C., defending personal injury, property damage, and worker's compensation claims. He also handled various related subrogation claims.

Mr. Pedriana frequently lectures and speaks on worker's compensation, along with related employment and subrogation topics in Wisconsin and throughout the country.

Mr. Pedriana spent two years, during his attendance at the University of Wyoming College of Law, working for the Wyoming Public Defender's office. There, he argued before the Supreme Court of Wyoming. Following law school, he completed a judicial clerkship with New Mexico's Fifth District Court and wrote appellate briefs to the New Mexico Supreme Court. Mr. Pedriana was named a 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 "Rising Star" by Wisconsin Super Lawyers, published by Law & Politics. Attorneys chosen as "Rising Stars" undergo an extensive peer review process and constitute the top 2.5% of attorneys in Wisconsin under the age of 40. Mr. Pedriana has a peer rating review of AV Preeminent by Martindale-Hubbell.

Mr. Pedriana strongly supports continued education. He received three undergraduate degrees and he is an adjunct faculty member at a local university. Mr. Pedriana teaches classes in employment law, business law, and business ethics.
